

ALEXANDRIA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 1

The ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE commences this day its SIXTY NINTH year, being one of the oldest papers published in this country, and having but three or four older cotemporaries. For the measure of favor it receives, and for the generous support and encouragement of the citizens of this place and all the surrounding country, continued to us without wavering, through every trial and vicissitude through which we have recently passed, we cannot be too grateful. The best way to show this gratitude will be a continuance of our exertions to present them with a paper worthy of their in-En telligence and worthy of their confidence. No effort on our part, which our means will justify, shall be omitted to accomplish this purpose .-All that we can possibly do, to make the GA-ZETTE a reliable, interesting, and welcome newspaper, in the counting room, in the work shop, and at the family fireside-which shall be doubly worth the money paid by every subscriber-shall be done; -and thue, we hope, to gratify the public, and please ourselves.

We are happy to add that our subscription list, under all the disadvantages of hard times, is steadily and gradually increasing in town and all the adjacent country, our old time friends, as well as n. w ones, coming back to the old paper, and receiving it again as an old friend. -As a me lium of advertising, the GAZETTE presen's many advantages, circulating as it does, and constantly read as it is, among the substantial farmers and tusiness men of all this section of Virginia.

With these few remarks we commence our labors in this New Year, and wish our readers the "comp iments of the season."

The "Washington correspondents" are "making out" that Col. Fayette McMullio, is "making up" to Judge Underwood, John W. Forney, and others of that ilk. We know nothing of the matter but what we see in the Washington correspondence letters. The Washington correspondent of the Staunton Spectator, exclaims-"Poor Fayette!" But, that is very indefinite, just at this time! Every body almost, is "poor," now. What's the row?-Why is the Col. said to be "hugger-mugger" with Underwood, Forney, and Co-? Why is he to be called, particularly, "poor Fayette," at these particular crisis? "Give us but light, and Ajax asks no more!"

Senator Morton, of Indiana, has just been trying to make himself "famous"-tor a day! -by an Ultra Radical speech, in Washington. It is a sufficient comment upon Senator Morton's present position, to say, that the National Intelligencer promises to publish, as soon as practicable, the same Senator's former speeches, "against negro suffrage, against military rule, and in favor of the President's plan of reconstruction"!! Mr. Morton, is, of course, one of the now and then Radical politicians-like many other of his fellow Radicals. What reliance ought to be, or can be, placed upon such men, in reference to their public course?

The New York Herald is mistaken in saying that the late Gen. Slough was once surprised and captured near Fairfax Court House, by Mosby and his men. It was another Federal general. Since the war, it has been said that the late Gen. Slough, did, however, make an escape from capture, at his residence in this place, although surrounded by his guards.-Mosby was on the lookout for him. But the capture was not thought to be worth the risk incurred. That is the report am ong the Confederate soldiers, since the war.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from St. Louis, pathetically deplores the quarrels that have sprung up among the Radicals of Missouri, and the consequences to the party to which the personal bitterness which has thus been engendered must inevitably lead. He complains of the troub'es which have disorganized and threaten to break down utterly Radical supremacy in Missouri.

The whole South, says the Southern Churchman, is debtor to the Rev. Dr. Mahan, of St. Paul's Church, Ballimore, for what he has done and is doing for the education of our Southern girls, whose homes were laid waste, and whose property was made valueless by the late consuming war.

This was an inclement day for the various "Receptions" in Washington. But, we presume, they all took place, and as usual, were all well attended, from the President's down. The President's evening receptions are to commence shortly.

Gen. Grant's friends are hurrying up matters as rapidly as possible, so as to compel the Radical National Convention to nominate their that Gen. Ord is relieved at his own request, favorite. They are getting up conventions of and that the administration has no complaints soldiers and sailors, &c., to make a nomication in advance.

The Southern Relief Association of Baltimore propose to hold a festival in Baltimore, on the 13th inst., the proceeds to be distributed among the needy and suffering in the Southera States.

The court and bar of Jefferson county, West Virginia, have adopted resolutions of respect for the late Henry Berry, Esq., of that county. Several of the lawyers made addresses on the occasion.

Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin it is expected will make an elaborate speech in opposition to the reconstruction acts soon after the reassembling of Congress.

Rev. Mr. Cosby, late rector of St. Paul's church, in Petersburg, took leave of his conoccasion, a very eloquent farewell sermon.

Gen. Sickles' order prohibiting the distillation of liquor and granting licenses to bar-rooms, is revoked, and the proceeds of such licenses are to be devoted to the support of the poor.

The result of the investigation into the late railroad accident at Angola is that the accident was caused by bent axles of the Cleveland and Toledo car No. 21, the car that was burned, causing the wheels of that truck to drop into the track, thus throwing the car off the track. The steamer Henry Ames has arrived at New Orleans with 3,600 bales of cotton. While being unloaded the guards of both sides of the boat gave way, precipitating a large portion of the cargo overboard. About twenty men, white and black, were drowned or crushed.

Nicholas Holbrook, a prominent merchant of Brooklyn, was knocked down on Saturday night and robbed of a large amount of money, a gold watch, and valuable papers. No less than four similar outrages were perpetrated in Brooklya the same night.

MASONIC CHRISTMAS GIFT.-We had the pleasure of examining yesterday a magnificent present made by the Grand Orient, or Grand Lodge of Peru, South America, to the distinguished Mason, Dr. A. G. Mackey.

Dr. Mackey sometime ago received from appointment of representative of that body to the Grand Lodge of Ancient Freemasons of South Carolina. On Christmas eve the Dr. received from the Grand Orient of Peru, sent through Washing ton City, the decorations of a representative of that body. These consist of a collar with the national colors of Peru, richly embroidered in gold, with the arms and initials of Peru, and the crowned double headed eagle of the Thirty third Degree underneath, with the motto, "Deus meumque jus." This is accompanied by a magnificent jewel. The jewel is a triple triangle, set with fifty-two brilliant diamonds of the first water, surrounding an enamel with the "All Seeing Eye" in the centre, and the words "G. O. del Peru." The value is estimated by competent judges at not less than $2,500. It is presented as an honor justly due to the eminent Masonic services of the recipient, and as a testimonial of the high esteem in which he is held by his brethren abroad. Since the death of the venerable Dr. Oliver, of England, Dr. Mackey is universally admitted to be the greatest Masonic scholar of this continent or Europe. - Charleston Cou-

THE MILITARY CHANGES.—The substitution of Gen. Meade for Gen. Pope will, we have no doubt, prove a good change for the people, whites and blacks, of the Third District; for Pope's excessive radicalism has been productive only of mischief. We understand against him. Gen. McDowell we have always understood to be a military man of the same moderate and anti-partisan character. When the two houses of Congress come together, again we may expect a little flutter of indignation among the radicals over the removal of Pope, but as they cannot help them-selves "the wan at the other end of the ave nue" may laugh at their folly .- N. Y. Herald.

THROUGH TO NEW YORK. - We understand that the Orange & Alexandria railroad company are energetically engaged in building a large number of cars for the especial purpose of carrying freight through from this city to New York without break of bulk. These cars are being constructed on what is called the "compromise guage," the portion of the line in New Jersey being of the 5 feet 10 inch guage, whereas the Orange and the other roads comprising the line are only 4 feet 81 inches. These cars will be run as a "Fast Fright Line," and this route will be a powerful competitor for the gregation, last Sunday. DEATH OF KING OF BADEN GAMBLERS-Benazet the nororious lessee of the gaming tables at Biden-Biden, died on the 2d of December. He was commonly called "King Benazet," and in reality, says a correspondent, for many years reigned as King of Baden Baden. His house, the Villa Benazet, placed on an eminence commanding the town, was famous for its good dinners and pleasant soirees dansante. A slight introduction sufficed to command Benazet's hospitality; and many a quiet English family who, after dinner, played whist at penny points with his wife and daughters, never dream t that they were passing a delightful evening at the expense of that never-failing crop of gamblers who pay tribute to the greatest 'hell' in Europe. The civility of M. Benazet was unequalled. He called upon every stranwill probably go to pieces. A friend of ours, with whom we spent a couple of nights a few weeks ago, with the aid of his two sons, one scarcely large enough to plough, made this year three bales of cotton, upwards of four hundred bushels of corn, one hundred bushels of peas, two hundred bushels of sweet potatoes, besides Irish potatoes, pinders, &c. and had thirteen hogs ready for the knife, which would nett him 2000 to 2300 pounds of pork, with flour enough to serve him until harvesting his next crop of wheat, of which he has planted largely. His crop was all harvested and housed, his lots and stables well filled with litter, and the boys were taking holiday after their year's work.

His wife and one daughter attend to all the household and domestic affairs, and clothe handsomely) the family, consisting of eight, from wool raised on the plantation. Our friend lives in the "Sand Hills," and plants sandy land, since freedom has adopted the system of planting the richest portions, and leaving the other to rest and recuperate. THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.—The N. Y. Times, of yesterday, says:

As things stand to day, with universal negro suffrage to be forced upon the Southern States by military power as the condition of their restoration to the Union, and in the uncertain tone and temper of the Republican party on the financial questions before the country, the "prospect of a Republican defeat" is not only "reasonable," but it may be called brilliant! What Congress may do to change it, remains to be seen; but it the National Convention takes up the party just where it stands now-if it adopts a Radical platform and nominates a Radical candidate-we venture the prediction that it will be beaten more disastrously than the Whigs were in 1852, or than the Democrats were in 1860. Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont and Michigan may vote for a Radical President on a Radical platform; it would be rash to place reliance upon any other Northern or Western State.
